Text: Calculus and its Applications by Goldstein, Lay, Schneider, and Asmar, 11th edition, Pearson Prentice Hall

Calculators: You will be allowed a scientific calculator, but not a graphing calculator.

Grading:

Three in-class Exams (100 pts each)	300 points
Quizzes	100 points
Homework	100 points
Final Exam	200 points
Total	700 points

I expect to give grades based on cutoffs of 90%, 80%, 70%, and 60%. This means the cutoffs should be:

A	630 points
B	560 points
C	490 points
D	420 points

Make-up exam policy: Exam makeups will only be given for University Excused Absences. Any student with a valid reason to be excused from an exam must contact me prior to the exam, either by email or by phone (leave a message at 301.405.5047), and present documentation at the next class session attended. If you need to be excused for a religious observance, you should let me know as soon as possible, but in any case no later than the end of the schedule adjustment period (that is, by September 12)

Homework and Quizzes: We will be using WebAssign for homework. You are encouraged to do the WebAssign problems and more. Time will be set aside during each discussion section to answer homework questions, and your TA or I will be happy to look over any work you have done if you would like feedback. Quiz and exam questions will be similar if not identical to homework questions. I reserve the right to give unannounced quizzes and make changes in the syllabus that I feel are necessary. Any changes in the syllabus will be announced in class and posted to the website. Extra help is available during my office hours, your TA's office hours, and in the tutoring room, MTH 0301. I will be dropping several quizzes and homeworks, so there are no makeups for either.

Final Exam: The final exam is a common final exam, listed as an exception to the normal exam schedule; see <http://www.testudo.umd.edu/soc/exam200708.html#common>. The exam is Thursday, December 13, 1:30-3:30 pm. If you will be unable to take the exam on this day, let me know by September 12.
